

February 2010 Services at Unitarian Universalist Church in Reston

Sunday, February 7, at 9 and 11 a.m.

"Finding Our Way Home"

The Rev. Evan Keely, Interim Senior Minister

What does it mean to truly be "at home" in our church? What have we committed to by joining?

Sunday, February 14, at 9 and 11 a.m.

"Standing On the Side of Love"

The Rev. Evan Keely, Interim Senior Minister

This Valentine's Day, we will be joining Unitarian Universalists all over the country in celebrating National Standing on the Side of Love Day, re-imagining the holiday as an opportunity for us to harness love's power to bring greater justice and equality to our land. You can contribute to this nationwide advocacy effort at standingontheside-oflove.org.

Sunday, February 21, at 9 and 11 a.m.

"Deliver Us From Evil"

Steve Ewart, Lay Minister

A journey about forgiveness through love.

Sunday, February 28, at 9 and 11 a.m.

"A Presence in Reston"

The Rev. Evan Keely, Interim Senior Minister

On February 26, 1970, a committee was formed at what was then called the Fairfax Unitarian Church (today the UU Congregation of Fairfax) to bring a "proposal to the April Board meeting on the establishment of a Unitarian presence in Reston for action at the 1970 Annual meeting." So began the journey that brought the UU Church in Reston into existence.
